BISHOP DUBS AGAIN LOSES.

Chicago Appellate Court Affirms the Former

Dec sion in Favor of Bishop Esher.

CHICAGO, June 27 .- The decision of Judge

Shepard in the Schweicker-Husser famous

Evangelical case was affirmed in the Appellate Court to-day. Similar suits are now pending with the two branches of the church in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Iowa, Kansas. Nebraska and Oregon and various points in Illinois. The suits involve the controversy between the two rival general conferences of the denomination, one of which assembled last October in Philadelphia, and the other at Indianapolis. The former, which is known as the minority or Dubs party, has, by this decision, been declared illegal and unauthorized.

The result affects thousands of preachers of the Eyangelical denomination and determines the title to over $5,000,000 worth by the respective adherents of the two conferences, in favor of the adherents of the Indianapolis body. The decision also determines that the conference of preachers held in April, 1890, at Chicago, from which Bishop Esher was exluded, was not a lawful conference, but that those members who recognized the Bishop's right of admission, and who, in consequence of his exclusion, withdrew and held a separate meeting under the Bishop's presidency, instituted the only lawful Illinois conference, and its decrees and appointments must be enforced as

THE GOVERNORSHIP.

Spirited but Friendly Contest, with Chase Against the Field-Boom for Judge Elliott,

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 27 .- Fort Wayne is full to overflowing with delegates and interested spectators to the State convention, which assembles here to-morrow. The hotels are crowded as they never were before, and in the principal streets, it is difficult to push a way through the throngs with which they are peopled. Every candidate for a State office is represented by a small army of workers, each confident that his man is by far the best who could be selected for the place to which he aspires, but all are generous and friendly toward their opposing brethren. Not the least acrimony has been manificated any where, and whatever the personnel of the ticket, we have the assurance that the prothink that he will be the proper person to take up the work so successfully carried ceedings will be conducted in that spirit of friendly rivalry and devotion to the D. P. Baldwin, of Logansport, and Judge A. D. Thomas, of this city, were appointed party's good that means success in November. Clubs have been arriving all day many of them accompanied by bands of music and some of them uniformed, but all enthusiastic and brimful of Republicanism.

The contest for the governorship is of absorbing interest, and candidates for al the other offices are lost sight of in the struggle for first place on the ticket. Clearly it is Governor Chase against the field, but not all the delegates are on the ground to-night, and will not be until to-mor row, and it is impossible to predict re sults with accuracy. While there considerable opposition to the Governor's nomination it is of good-natured character, and not an unkind word has been uttered by the friends of a single candidate in the field. Chase's headquarters, at the Wayne Hotel, have been the center of attraction during the day, and the preacher Governor has shaken hands with the entire adul population of this section of the State, and a fair proportion of that from other CHASE'S FRIENDS AND FOES. The only people who are threatening to bring any bitterness into the contest are the organized railroad men, who protest against Chase's nomination on the ground that during his service as Lieutenantgovernor he did certain things that they construe as being contrary to their desires, the history of which has been made public through the medium of their blue book. On the other hand there are many railroad men here who have no sympathy with this fight on Governor Chase, and are actively at work in his behalf. The soldier element is almost unanimously for him, and the only organizations of this character that are here are earnestly working for his nomination. They are a source of great strength to him, indefatigable as they are. No delegate escapes their importunities for votes for their candidate, and their work has been of a very effective character. However, the friends of other candidates are

State who are devoted to his interests and are bound to see that he gets there regardless of his expressions on the subject. Maj. this instance his support is of this character.

RAILROAD MEN FOR SHOCKNEY. Senator Shockney has a hearty following among the railroad men, who regard him as their special champion, and the Republicans from his section of the State are heartily for him. Aside from these influences there is a very general disposition to make Shockney the nominee for Lieutenant-governor, and this feeling, general as it is, may prejudice his chances for nomination for the first place.

Smiley N. Chambers is represented by a large following, and his personal acquaintance throughout the State is a power in his behalf. He is recognized as a fluent speaker, an able campaigner, a thorough Republican and in every respect available timber out of which to make a Governor. Despite the announcement from Hon. J. N. Huston, received this morning, to the effect that his name must not be used so long as Governor Chase is before the convention, there are many delegates who propose to vote for him, and I would not be ised to be an active candidacy. The friends of ex-Senator W. N. McDonald, of Jackson county, are loath to accept as a finality his message to Chairman Gowdy, declining to permit the use of his name in connection with the nomination for Governor, but its language was so pointed and direct that no choice is left them, and he will probably not be voted for.

BOOM FOR JUDGE ELLIOTT. It has developed to-day that there are great number of delegates here who are of the opinion that Judge Byron K. Elliott, of Marion county, is the proper man to lead the ticket, and he is being very generally talked of. At a meeting held this afternoon, at which every congressional district was represented, except the Third, the unanimous expression was that Judge Elliott was the man to head the ticket. The matter has been broached to him by some of his friends, but the Judge has positively declined to be considered a candidate. He came here desiring a renomination for the position on the judiciary which he has so long graced, and has no ambition to be Governor, and he so stated to the friends who called upon him. Judge Olds and Caleb S. Denny appeared before the meeting this afternoon as the representatives Elliott, that he positively would not permit the use of his and yet so enthusiastic were his friends that they have declined to abide by his decision and are disposed to vote for him, notwithstanding his protest. If Governor Chase is not the nominee, in my opinion Judge Elliott will be. There are no votes pledged to him, he is not a candidate and refuses to be considered even as a dark horse, but somehow a great Elitott boom has taken possession of the town to-night, and unless something heroic te done to stop it, it will have assumed huge proportions by the time the convention meets in the morning.

'TIS NOT "ANYTHING TO BEAT CHASE." The battle is not being waged in the spirit of "Anything to beat Chase," indicated by some of the Democratic papers. While the ernor has a much larger following than any other one candidate, the friends of the others are for their favorites in just as good faith, and are urging them in the honestly-conceived belief that their man is the strongest candidate. Whoever the nominee may be, he will win, because his champions will convince the majority of the delegates that theirs is the correct way of thinking.

Another meeting of those favorable to the nomination of Judge Elliott was held at the Randall to-night, over one hundred being present. A report was made from every district in the State except the Second and Tenth, about half the coun ties being accounted for. It developed that there were quite a number present whose choice was Judge Elliott, but who were either pledged to other candidates or in honor bound to vote for them or one ballot. Every one of those present stated his intention of voting for Elli ott if it developed, after one or two ballots, that his original preference could not be nominated. A total of 489 votes were reported who favored Elliot as a second choice. None of those present were friends of Governor Chase, his delegates agreeing that they have no second choice, but will stick to him to the end Before the meeting closed a motion was passed by a rising vote pledging those present to vote for Elliott as soon as they were satisfied, if the time came in the course of the balloting when they could be satisfied that their first choice could not win.

If the reports made to-night from the counties represented at the meeting can b taken as a fair indication of the way the remaining counties stand, Governor Chase will certainly not be nominated on the first ballot, and may not succeed at all, but in my opinion the estimates made are exaggerated. As things stand to-night there will probably be but three candidates placed in nomination for Governor, namely Chase, Chambers and Shockney. The names of Steele, Huston and Elliott will not be formally presented, but each will receive some votes on the first ballot. On the second, unless the Governor wins on the first one taken, which is not at all improbable, will come the effort to concentrate. and in case this is done, it looks to me as though Judge Elliott will develop the greatest strength. If a third ballot reached without a nomination, and in the meantime Elliott's friends have not positively forbidden the use of his name, I think it probable that he may be the choice of the convention. This is the situation: Chase in the lead, with Elliott the dark horse in the race.

TWO WITHDRAWALS.

N. Huston and W. N. McDonald Do No. Desire the Gubernatorial Nomination.

Special to the Indianapolis Journa. FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 27 .- A letter was received this morning from Hon. J. N. Huston, addressed to Hon. Thomas M. Little, of Fayette county, which practically withdraws Mr. Huston's name from before the convention and, therefore, has an important bearing on the possible result of the balloting for first honors. The letter was dated at Washington June 24, and directs Mr. Huston's friends not to present equally earnest, if less numerous, and all his name so long as Governor Chase's in the field. As the Governor is in the race to stay, Hon. George W. Steele stated yesterday | without regard to what the results may be, that he would not be an active candidate, this expression means that Mr. Huston but his friends decline to permit the drop- | will not be placed in nomination, and Mr. ping of his name and are working for him | Little so stated this afternoon. Hon. W. N. Thus the list of talkedof candidates has been narrowed down by CONFIDENCE THAT PRESAGES VICTORY. Republicans Feel that the Coming Fight Will Be a Successful One-Views of Major Steele. Freels to the Indianapolis Journal.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 27 .- The confident hopefulness of the Republicans of Indiana is the most notable feature of the great gathering here. It is even more of a topic of conversation among the delegates than the chances of the various candidates. Ex-Governor George W. Steele voiced this general feeling this evening while talking in a group of prominent Republicans, when he said: "There is no doubt in my mind that the President is much stronger now than he was four years ago. There has been no point of weakness in his splendid administration. Mr. Reid is recognized as a strong and clean man. He is a good newspaper man, and as minister to France he performed great and unusual service to American farmers and Americans generally in raising the pork embargo and promoting commercial relations with that country.

"So far as Cleveland 19 concerned, it is unfortunate for him that he did not have a single vote from his own State; that, on the contrary, the delegates from the State of New York were there actively opposing his nomination, declaring in the most emphatic terms that he could not carry that State, and giving good reasons why he could not. Then they missed the opportunity of nominating Gray, who is recognized as being the most astute politician the Democrate have in Indiana. I cannot see how Gray can possibly have any heart in a campaign following a convention where eighteen of the delegates from his own State were for him actively and earnestly for first place on the ticket, and where those eighteen votes were bargained off to some imaginary person, in authority, for the vicepresidency by the twelve Cleveland men. and he failed to get in return anything like the vote he might have had for first place. The logical conclusion is that, while the Republican party goes into the race wit the confidence of the Republican voters and of the business world in its caudidates, the Democratic party must go into it handi capped by strong dissensions in pivotal States. I think this is our year." R. M. S.

LIKE A NATIONAL CONVENTION, With Its Marching Clubs, Crowded Hotels

Boomers and Enthusiastic Shouters. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 27 .- The biggest of the many organizations that have poured into the city to-day was the Morton club. of Connersville, 350 strong, which arrived at noon, and, headed by the Second Kegiment Band, paraded the principal streets. The club originally started for the purpose of booming Mr. Huston, but on arrival found he would not permit the use of his name with Chase in the field, and no demonstration in his behalf was made; but the great turnout made a good showing for Fayette county Republicanism. Col. H. Fearis, president, marched at the head of the procession, and bowed knowledgments to the cheers greeted the club all along streets. "We simply came up here," said Colonel Fearis, "to show the kind of redhot Republicans Fayette could produce. We are for the nominee of the convention, whoever he may be, and every one of us a worker." A little later the Marion Club appeared with banners flying, and the "Chase Veterans" following. They marched up through the hotel corridors and were everywhere eceived with enthusiasm. The journe up had been pleasant and uneventful. further than to develop the fact that there was a heavy Chase sentiment on the train. A poll of the 344 people on board showed that 331 were for him. The remaining thirteen were scattered among Huston, Steele, Fairbanks and Shockney, but a little later 150 Shockney shouters from Union City appeared, and again the air was alive with music. The last diversion of the day was the strival of sixty Binclair boomers from New Albany, headed by a brass band. They made a very pretty procession and attracted any amount of attention.

This outpouring of clubs and organizations, so unusual at a State gathering, has given this the appearance of a national convention on a somewhat smaller scale, There is the same jamming of the hotel lobbies, crowds on the streets, marching processions and booming of candidates by means of curbstone speeches, serenades and waving of lithographs of the favorites. Governor Chase's boomers are taking the most active part in the "enthusiasm" work, and all afternoon a glee club, accompanied by one or two good talkers, has been making the rounds of the hotels singing "Hold the Fort, for Chase is Coming." and arousing cheers for the "parson." as he is familiarly called by friends and foe alike. To-night a serenade was tendered at the balcony of the Wayne, and he responded with a neat little speech.

FAIRBANKS FOR CHAIRMAN. Unanimously Selected by the Committee

Permanent Organization. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 27,-The committee on rules and permanent organization unanimously elected Hon. C. W. Fairbanks permanent chairman and Gil R. Starment, of Gibson county, secretary. There was a brief contest over a proposal to change the usual order of nominations so as to bring the judicial offices first, but this was voted down, and nominations will be made in the usual order. This was an effort by the Chase managers to nominate Judge Elliott for the Supreme Court, and thus take him out of the Governor's way, but they were defeated in the committee. The resolutions committee will not finish its labors until a late hour. There is a general impression that the temperance plank will be let alone. R. M. S.

Col. M. G. McLain called the Seventh district meeting to order and Hon. Geo. W. Duncan, of Hancock, was made chairman by acclamation. Senator A. E. Harlan, of Madison, was made secretary, with W. S. Montgomery, of Hancock, and W. V. Rooker, of Marion, as assistants. The committeemen named above were elected by acclamation. And in the same way Charles L. Henry, of Madison, was made vice-president, and W. S. Montgomery, of Hancock, assistant secretary of the convention. The only contest was upon elector. Geo. W. Duncan was placed in nomination by E. E. Stoner, of Han cock county, and A. R. Hovey, by J. W. Fessler, both in neat speeches. On the ballot Mr. Hovey won by a vote of 84 to 49. Mr. Duncan was made contingent elector by acclamation.

The Marion county delegation met at P. M., chiefly for the purpose of harmonizing the contest in the Tenth ward, in order not to carry it before the convertion. Both sides agreed to abide by the decision of a committee of five, with Dr. F. J. Van Vorbis at its head. This committee retired to investigate, while the delegation adjourned. In the evening, at the meeting just after the district meeting, this committee reported in favor of seating two from each side of the contest, and this report was accepted. Ex-Mayor C. S. Denuy was elected chairman of the delegation by acclamation, and in the same way C. A Bookwalter was made secretary. Hancock county elected E. E. Stoner as its chairman, and Madison elected Jonas Stewart.

THE BAILWAY MEN Still Fighting for and Against Chase-Editor Martin a Square-Toed Republican.

Erecial to the Indianapolia Journa FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 27 .- The railroad men are keeping up their active warfare against and for Chase, and this feeling gave rise to a warm argument in the corridor of the Aveline to-night between one of Chase's supporters and C. W. Martin, editor of the Federationist at Indianapolis. It will be remembered that Martin was offered the Democratic nomination for Representative, and declined it a few weeks ago. In the course of his argument to-night he said: "I am here intending to support the ticket from Harrison down to the coroner, no matter whom this convention may nominate"-a statement that was received with applause all through the crowded corridor. Early in the morning this circular was distributed as the result of the meeting of the legislative board, which had been in session during the afternoon: "TO DELEGATES:

"A report has been circulated that members of the railroad legislative cailed upon Governor Chase and arranged matters satisfatory to them. There is no in this story. The railroad advocate a principle and no nearer a compromise with Governor Chase to-day than a year ago, and never will be. The Indiana Bine Book' speaks for itself regarding Governor Chase. It is indorsed by our organizations. It has not been withdrawn, neither will it There are plenty of able men left in the party and we confidently look for a wise and agreeable selection. Every district was represented, and the reports showed the work is far in advance 1888. There is a county manager in every one of the ninety-two counties the State, and there are already from one to a half dozen thriving clubs in every county. President Taylor outlined a plen of campaign, comprehending the organization of a club in every township of the State, which was so complete that it was adopted at once. United Press Disputch. FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 27 .- This has but at its close he is still decidedly in the lead and all the indications point to his nomination to-morrow, possibly on the arst ballot. With the arrival of full delegations from all the counties to-day. the opposition called a canons and determined to carry out the programme of adding as many candidates as possible, and after several bailots to concentrate upon the strongest and endeavor to secure a part of Chase's instructed vote upon the second ballot, elaiming that instructions do not bind the delegates after the first ballot. One of the strongest statements made in Chase's behalf is that the church of which he is a minister has 750 congregations in Indiana, and that be will get from three to five Democratio votes in every congregation, thus making him three thousand to five thousand votes stronger than any other candidate. Several old soldiers are "also visiting the delegations, urging that he will get the soldier vote. Indications to-night all point to his nomination. Many of those opposed to him believe that only one ballot will be necessary to decide the contest in his favor.

The opposition has more life to-night than at any time since the struggle. The railroad men marched through the principal streets shonting for Elliott.

She Doesn't Want the Dress-Reform Movement to Die, and Is Willing to Exhibit Hersalf.

CHICAGO, June 27 .- If there is not a great advance made in dress reform during the world's fair, it will not be the fault of Dr. Mary Waiker. The dress-reform movement seems to have sagged a little of late, and the Doctor has come to the rescue with the following application to the world's fair officials, addressed to Director-general Davis: "I believe that a costume department under my charge would be of interest to the people, and I most respectfully ask for such to be announced, and that I be appointed as president of such department." Colonel Davis could not be seen, but his private secretary said that the application would receive due consideration. "Do you think a costume department will be instituted?' was asked. "I cannot say, but I consider Dr. Walker an intelligent, well-informed woman, who could manage such a matter with credit." Mrs. Potter Palmer, president of the board of lady managers, said when seen by a reporter: "The matter has not been presented to the board. I have not thought it

"What action is the board likely to takel "I cannot say, as it has not been even "Would you be in favor of establishing a costume department?

"Well, the dress reform movement has occupied so much attention of late that it might be productive of much good. "Do you think Dr. Walker could manage such a department? "She has given much thought and attention to the subject, and I have no doubt she would make it a success. But it has not been broached to the board as yet, so I am unable to say what action will be Dr. Walker has left the city, so it was impossible to get her views on the matter.

CHICAGO UNDER WATER.

Breaking of a Dyke Floods a Big Portion of the Prairie Wards.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CHICAGO, June 27 .- That part of the city lying between Cottage Grove avenue and the Illinois Central tracks, from Seventyfirst street south to the corporate limits, comprising thousands of acres of land, is submerged beneath from twenty-four inches to three feet of water. The earth, which is swampy, refuses to take up the vast flood and there it hes-a miniature sea, rolling and tossing before the wind which sweeps over it. The situation today was practically what it was last night. The water stopped rising about 5 o'clock this morning. There is no prospect of relief by draining the submerged district, and the water must stand until it evaporates. People whose homes are in the western part of Grand Crossing, Fordham, Brookdale, Dauphin Park and Burnside have been forced to leave their homes and seek shelter elsewhere, leaving behind them, at the mercy of tramps and robbers, all their effects. Scores of houses are utterly and irremediably cut off from thoroughfares, and business is at a standstill, and the only redeeming feature of the situation is that there is no danger of loss of life. The ominous feature is the fear of an epidemic when the water subsides. Mississippi Higher than Ever. ROCK ISLAND, Ill., June 27 .- A new highwater mark was established in the Mississippi here to-day. The river attained a maximum height of 19.4, which is one-fifth of a foot of being a foot higher than it has ever been before. The water to-night is gradually receding, though much of the city is inundated, and the town of Milan, south of here, is completely engulfed. James Post, a citizen of that place, while attempting to ford a street near the river to-day, was carried by the swift current into Rock river and drowned.

A Levee Gives Way. NEW ORLEANS, June 27 .- The levee built by the Shell Beach road, at the Bohemia plantation, parish of Plaquemine, gave way this morning, and the water is rushing through the breach unchecked. The break is one foot wide and is expected to run into the bayon at Point a la Hache. The tracks of the Shell Beach road are completely NASHVILLE, June 27. + At Shelbyville, Tenn., to-day, a mob went to the jail, forcibly secured the keys, took the wife murderer, William Bates, of Rowesville, from his cell and hanged him to a tree in the court-house yard. Bates died protesting his innocence. Bates was lynched within fifty feet of the prison, two hundred men dragging him from his cell. Last Friday Mrs. Bates was found in her garden with her throat cut.
